AUTOPSY OF JANE DOE

A family has been massacred in their own house, the setting of a grisly crime in small-town Virginia. Hidden in the basement, the partially buried body of a murdered woman is discovered.

Drawn into the mysterious case, coroner Tony Tilden (Brian Cox, The Bourne Identity) and his son Austin (Emile Hirsch, Milk) conduct an otherwise routine late-night autopsy on the unidentified corpse.

But as the night crawls on, the autopsy becomes more complex than they ever imagined and the two men discover less about the victim and more about their own primal fears. Trapped in their own basement, haunted by the many creepy apparitions that penetrate the darkness and surrounded by the evil unknown, the coroners will need more than a simple scalpel to survive this night of visceral terror.

BAD KIDS GO TO HELL

A macabre lesson in discipline, debauchery and death, Bad Kids Go To Hell takes on the collective pressures of school life and delivers a dark vision of discontent and desperate survival in the classroom.

Venting spleen and mouthing off during their 8-hour incarceration, the group's harsh attitude toward the school and each other suddenly falls into insignificance when a horrible 'accident' takes the life of one of their peers, casting an evil and insidious shadow over the entire proceedings.

DVD

BITTER FEAST

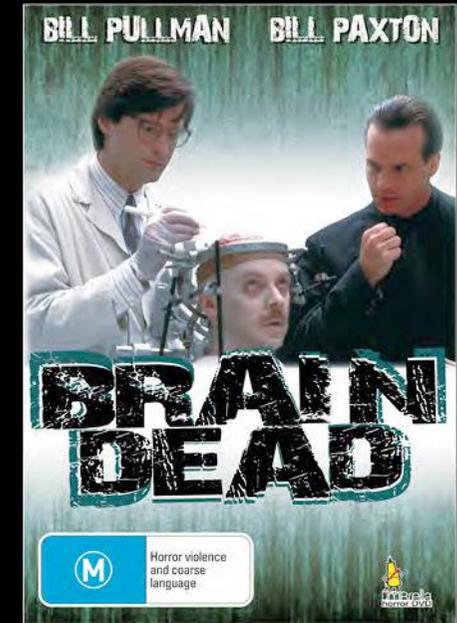

Lick your lips and prepare to be tantalised by an exciting new genre in film - gourmet horror!

When food critic and notorious blogger J.T Franks (Joshua Leonard, The Blair Witch Project) publishes an unflattering comment about celebrity TV chef Peter Grey (James Le Gros, Zodiac) the heat is on and the soufflé is not the only thing that's rising. With his culinary empire soon in tatters and his career in the scrap bin Grey is compelled to take things into his own hands and kidnap the young upstart to see what he is made of, one recipe at a time.

Bitter Feast is a tense revenge shocker with an after taste guaranteed to linger long.

Ordering off the menu never tasted so good!

DVD

BRAIN DEAD

Brain Dead follows an experimental brain researcher (Bill Pullman - Lost Highway) who agrees to dig into the gray matter of a schizophrenic scientist only to fall prey to his patient's psychosis.

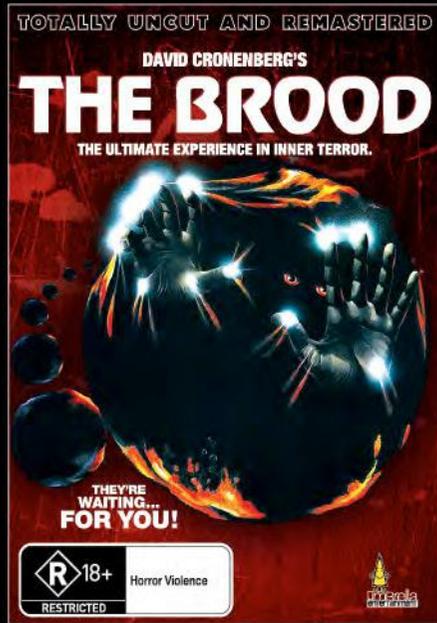

Pullman is blackmailed by a manipulative business friend, (played by Bill Paxton) into studying the case history of a paranoid scientist turned serial killer in order to profit from the secrets held in his mind. But Pullman's ordeal takes one hairpin turn after another as he becomes lost in a maze of alternate realities, no longer able to sort fantasy from reality or paranoia from persecution.

In the tradition of the great psychological thrillers including Vanilla Sky, Lost Highway and Brazil, this is a terrifying, mind-bending suspense at its best.

RED CHRISTMAS

Matriarch Diane (Dee Wallace) has invited her children to celebrate one last Christmas in their family home. Amid celebrations and domestic drama, they receive a visit from a mysterious stranger. Disfigured and cloaked, they feel sorry for him until they discover his extreme religious motives and anti-abortion message. Diane orders him to leave unaware he is her son. Twenty years ago she had an abortion and on that day a religious zealot bombed the clinic. Her still-living foetus was taken and raised by the bomber. After being rejected by his mother once again when all he wanted was love, he seeks vengeance and kills the family who cast him out. From award-winning director, Craig Anderson, comes his feature debut.

NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD

In George A. Romero's trailblazing horror masterpiece, an army of advancing zombies with a bloodthirsty lust for human flesh force a lone group of human survivors to seek refuge in a farmhouse. Radiation from a fallen satellite has caused the dead to walk, and the only way to kill them is with a blow or gun shot to the head. As the small farmhouse community tries to fend off the onslaught of the dead, the tension builds to an apocalyptic conclusion as a petrol pump and pick-up truck offer the only hope of escape.
