THE CHANT OF JIMMIE BLACKSMITH

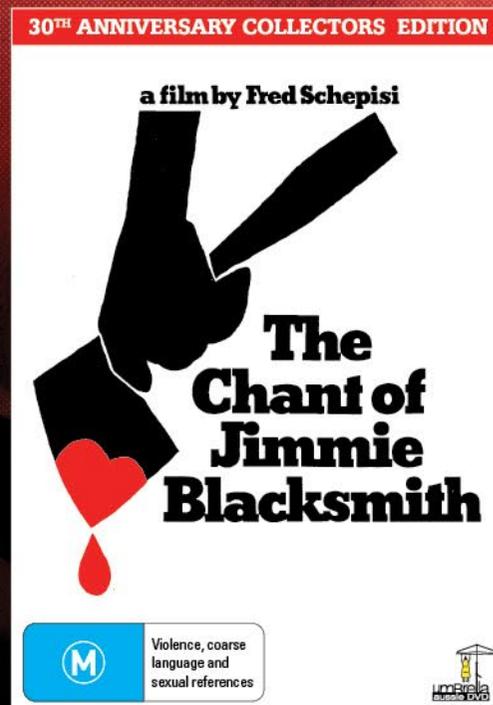

Fred Schepisi's internationally acclaimed masterpiece, based on the novel by Thomas Keneally, is the shocking tale of an indigenous man driven to madness and revenge.

Jimmie Blacksmith (Tommy Lewis) is a young Aboriginal half-caste caught between worlds. Persecuted and exploited by white society, Jimmy explodes in a fury of violent revenge and escapes into the bush with his brother Mort (Freddy Reynolds), cutting a bloody path of retribution upon the society that has forsaken him.

"A POWERFUL AND CONFRONTING STORY: ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT FILMS OF THE 1970s FILM RENAISSANCE IN AUSTRALIA."

FRINGE DWELLERS

Outcasts in Their Own Land!

A compelling film about the difficult clash of two cultures. Trilby Comeaway (Kristina Nehm) is an Aboriginal teenager living in a squalid shantytown with her extended family who are divided between those more assimilated to the white world, like Trilby and her sister, and an older generation still attuned to the mythology of their culture.

JEDDA

NEWLY RESTORED FILM AVAILABLE JULY 2015

Charles Chauvel's last film, Jedda (1955) is most notable for being the first to star two Aboriginal actors (Robert Tudawali and Ngarla Kunoth) in the leading roles and being the first Australian feature film shot in colour.

Jedda (Ngarla Kunoth), an aboriginal raised by white people, is abducted by Marbuck (Robert Tudawali), a bush tribesman. With half-caste stockman Joe (Paul Reynall) in pursuit, they head towards Marbuk's tribe and their inevitable fate.

DVD

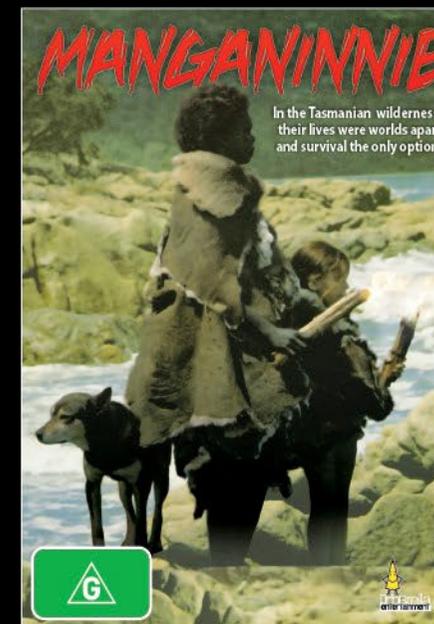

MAD DOG MORGAN

Set in gold rush-era Victoria, and based on a true story, this violent, rollicking portrayal of infamous Irish outlaw Dan Morgan featuring a bravura performance from an intense Dennis Hopper is a classic of Australia's '70s cinema renaissance.

Combining an all-star Australian cast, including Bill Hunter, Jack Thompson, David Gulpilil and John Hargreaves, with a brilliant Dennis Hopper who called the role one of his great life experiences - director Philippe Mora (Communion) creates one of the great period action dramas.

DVD

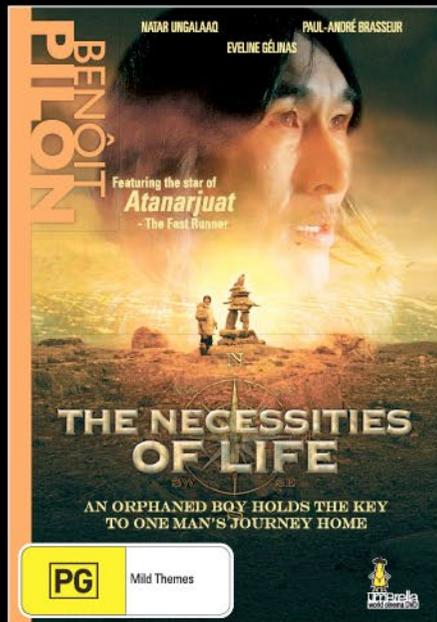

MANGANINNIE

Australia, 1830. Edward Waterman (Phillip Hinton) and his family arrive in a remote part of Tasmania, where he is pressured into helping British colonial forces carry out the Black Line – enforced removal of Aborigines from land near white settlements.

Aboriginal woman Manganinnie (Mawuyul Yanthalwuy) survives a Black Line raid which claims the life of her husband. During an innocent family outing in the wilderness, Waterman's young daughter Joanna (Anna Ralph) becomes separated from her family leaving Manganinnie, who has been hiding in the area, to take Joanna into her care. Overcoming her initial mistrust of Manganinnie, Joanna joins her on a long journey in search of Manganinnie's people.

NECESSITIES OF LIFE

An orphaned boy holds the key to one man's journey home.

In 1952, a consumptive Inuit hunter named Tivii (Natar Ungalaaq, star of Atanarjuat: The Fast Runner) leaves home and family in Baffin Island to recuperate at a sanatorium in Quebec City.

Uprooted, far from his loved ones, unable to speak French and faced with a completely alien world, he becomes despondent. When he refuses to eat and expresses a wish to die, his nurse, Carole (Evaline Gelinás), comes to the realization that Tivii's illness is not the most serious threat to his well-being.

DVD

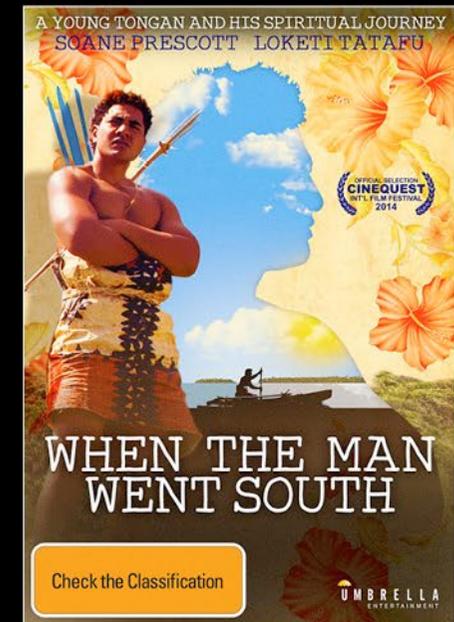

TUDAWALI

The film traces the life of Robert Tudawali (Ernie Dingo, Crocodile Dundee II, Bran Nue Dae) from the moment that he was selected to play the lead in Jedda, his career as a boxer when he was unable to find more film roles, right through to his premature death at around age 40 from severe burns.

It also portrays the stark contrast between Tudawali's home outside Darwin, and his life in Sydney, where he did most of his filming for movies and TV series.

DVD

WHEN THE MAN WENT SOUTH

A triumph of storytelling, filmed on the picturesque island of Eua, When The Man Went South is the first ever movie to be entirely shot on location in the Kingdom of Tonga, an archipelago in the South Pacific.

The story of a Tongan hunter named Flying Fox (Soane Prescott) who, upon the suggestion of his chief Singing Whale (Loketi Tatafu), ventures out from the comforts of his village to discover the mysterious ways of the world that exist beyond his own island and about his strengths as a man. During his journey outwards Flying Fox meets two warring villages and attempts to mediate their respective differences.
